—A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Huston of 214 West North street, Tuesday, the 27, bears the distinction of having been ushered into the world under the soothing influences of the "twilight sleep", administered by Dr. W. A. Stanley.

—While reaching his hand in a mail box to deliver a piece of mail, Monday, Hi Foskett, R. F. D. carrier narrowly escaped a serious injury. The lid of the box fell on Mr. Foskett's wrist and as the horse was in motion it caused a cut nearly half way through the wrist, requiring several stitches.

—A number of fight fans witnessed the four round bout between Roy Moore of Medina and Lea Kelley of Cleveland at the Marotta Athletic club, Cleveland, Tuesday night, resulting in the defeat of Moore. The decision was perhaps a trifle off-color.

—Mrs. P. N. Yoder, while visiting her daughter in Cleveland, was taken seriously ill with pneumonia and at this time is under the care of a trained nurse with no hope for recovery. Mr. Yoder, who is a traveling salesman, was telegraphed for and all the children are at the bed-side of their mother.

—Mr. N. P. Nichols was summoned to the bedside of his son Lewis in Cincinnati Saturday night for the second time within the past few weeks. The latter had suffered a relapse, which had developed pneumonia, and his condition was pronounced critical. As we go to press his condition had slightly improved.

—Colin J. Paton, Millersburg, whose arrest for arson in that city was reported in our issue of last week and who has $1300 on deposit at the Savings Deposit Bank of Medina that was garnished following his arrest, has confessed to his crime and that his motive was to secure the insurance money. Paton was apprehended at Mt. Vernon, O., whether he had hastened after firing the Ordway house in Millersburg and where his aged mother is in a hospital receiving treatment.

—Considerable excitement prevailed for a time in the neighborhood between North and Union streets on N. Court street Monday over the peculiar actions of a dog, which was thought to be mad. Marshal gates was notified and shot the dog at the rear of the O. O. Van Deusen house.

—Auto and motorcycle speeders will do well to hold back a little henceforth, as Marshal Gates has struck a new lead in landing violators of the speed ordinance. Now instead of the watchful waiting policy, John hops into an auto himself and goes out and finds them. About a dozen speeders who failed to see John first last Sunday have been notified of what they were doing and given ample time to appear before the mayor.

—While ascending a ladder to his hay-mow Sunday morning and when upon the top round, the ladder slipped and precipitated Jerry Snell to the first floor, a distance of about ten feet. Mr. Snell alighted upon the base of his spine, causing him great pain and incapacitating him from work for a few days. Considering Mr. Snell's avoirdupois and the distance he fell, it seems miraculous that his injuries were not more serious.

—We have no desire to criticize the village authorities, but we wonder why the new speed signs that were recently put up were not made to read 15 or 20 miles as the speed limit, instead of 8 miles per hour. Eight miles is not enforced and is not intended to be enforced. A driver may violate the law to the extent of 12 to 15 miles and go free, yet if he speeds up above that he is liable to a fine. Why wouldn't it be better to put the limit high enough and then hold motorists to that limit.

—With the advent of Saturday night there was cast upon the police shore another case of intoxication. About 9 o'clock Marshall Gates was directed to Vine street near Washington, where he found stretched out on the walk the limp form of Bruce Howell, who had been doing odd jobs about town for the previous week. Monday morning he told Mayor Randall his condition Saturday night was not due to drunkenness so much as the action of a defective heart. Some features of the case indicated that Howell was telling the truth or partially so, and the mayor gave him a suspended sentence of $10 and costs. Howell possessed receipts showing him to be a member of the Odd Fellows lodge in good standing.

—Married at the Methodist parsonage on Saturday, April 24, Mr. Clancy Gault, formerly clerk at Foote & Hartman's grocery, and Miss May Gray of Medina. The young people will make their home on a dairy farm just outside the town of Andover, Astabula county, Ohio.

—Not unlike the increased attendance at Sunday school for two or three weeks preceding Christmas, was the occasion at the Church of Christ last Friday evening, when the older members of the Sunday school gave a supper to the younger members as a forfeit for having not equalled them in the point of attendance at classes. Nearly 200 sat at table and enjoyed a repast fit for kings. As the great concourse filed into the banquet room they passed an orchestra whose music possessed all the atmosphere of the streets of Cairo. Following dinner the women of the Sunday school pulled off a tea party in pantomime, which, considering the hurried manner in which the costuming was done, was cleverly presented and greatly enjoyed.

PARRET-WHITEMORE
BILL RESTS WITH GOV.

The Parret-Whitemore bill, repealing of the Warnes law, now rests with Governor Willis to go into effect January 1, 1916, if it safely passes the referendum period. There is little likelihood that it will be permitted to stand. As a matter of fact, while restoring elective assessors seemingly, it retains the state tax commission supervision, provides for the removal of elective assessors and the substitution of appointed ones, and makes the county auditor a goat. Furthermore the Warnes law has now demonstrated its worth and thousands of voters who were deluded last fall have awakened to their mistakes. The people of Ohio now realize what the Warnes law means to them and there is every evidence that they will insist on continuation of a taxation method which for the first time has given Ohio a system that approaches justness, and makes the wealthy holder of personality pay his reasonable share of state government, along with the farmer and small home owner of the city, who heretofore paid more than they should.

PROSPERITY HERE
SAYS POMERENE

United States Senator Atlee Pomerene, who was in Columbus Tuesday, says that a big revival in business is imminent.

"Everything points to a prosperous year," he said. "One cannot peruse a financial publication or trade journal without seeing evidences of it. Every great industrial center is now advertising for help. Orders are coming in increasing volume all the time, and the railroads are beginning to make improvements. There is no branch of industry that is not feeling in some degree this quickening influence—the effect of general improvement of business."

Real Riding Comfort

NEW underslung rear springs make the Overland one of the easiest and most comfortable riding cars in the world.

Being unusually long and of a new underslung design these rear springs have unusual flexibility.

The Overland type of rear springs is illustrated above.

See how the springs are placed under the axle; that they are long, have a very wide opening, and are of generous dimensions. Notice that the frame is dropped which makes possible a much lower hung and more graceful body. The road clearance is not affected.

The wide opening of the springs permits great up-and-down play—the maximum of flexibility.

These springs are unusually long; in fact are longer, in proportion to the wheel base, than the springs used on most all of the highest priced cars. This means a much more cushioned action.

The Overland swivel seat gives absolutely free movement of the springs, prevents binding and reduces possibility of breakage.

In short the exceptional elasticity of the Overland underslung rear springs makes the car ride with perfect ease and absolute smoothness under all conditions.

Shock absorbers are useless.

The 1915 Overland has grace, style, a beautiful finish, smooth riding qualities and every modern comfort and convenience. It comes complete.

We will be glad to demonstrate its merits at any time and place you appoint.

Orders are now being taken for immediate delivery.
